

Dear Mrs. Tetreault,

I am writing to you from Australia. It is located northwest of Antarctica, southeast of Asia, and east of the tip of Africa. There are 14 regions. The weather here is warm and humid most of the year. There are 38,304,000 people living here. An interesting fact about this continent is it's almost as big as the United States. A famous landmark on this continent is The Great Barrier Reef. Some interesting animals that live here are koala bears and kangaroos. I enjoyed visiting Australia because I liked taking a walk in the rain forest.

Sincerely,

Jessica
