This week's Parent Forum topic will focus on the social and emotional impact of remote learning. It will be hosted by our counselors, Margaret Petrovich and Meg Flatley. They will be joined by our school psychologist, Mercedes Neves, and behavior specialist, Hardeep Jassal. With that in mind, please RSVP and submit a question about how remote learning is affecting your child and/or family socially or emotionally. Click here to complete the form and please do so by noon on this Wednesday, 5/6, to ensure you receive a Zoom invitation. If you cannot attend, please note that the forum will be recorded and shared with you all afterward.

Heads up. The next two Parent Forum topic will be:

- May 13th - Technology tips for parents and caregivers with technology specialist, Kara Shea, and staff
- May 20th - Update and check in on remote learning with me and SWES staff

On a related note, the superintendent's most recent email about the new phase of NPS remote learning plan is now available in several languages. Click here to view it.

Thank you!
